JOHN P. PHAIR:

His Execution for Murder Stayed Till May 4.

NEW WITNESS

Probability of Proving an Alibi in the Convict's Favor.

INT TELEGRAPH TO THE HERALD.] Boston, April 6, 1877.

One of those events in real life whi erilling details and circumstances rarely found in the cost startling of romances, was developed in this city day, and just in the "nick of time" to save possibly innocent man from the pain and sgrace of a death on the scaffold. A man has apeared here who thinks he can prove an alibi in the use of John P. Phair, convicted for the murder of Mrs. Fruze, and though the man was to have been hung today Governor Fairbanks at once ordered him to reprieved till May 4.

The history of the crime with which l'hair is charged

On Tuesday morning, June 9, 1874, about half-past seven o'clock, the house occupied by Mrs. Annie Freize, a dissolute woman, on Forrest street, was disvered to be on fire in the second story, in the oom occupied by her as a sleeping room. In a few moments the flames burned through the or, and the scorched and mutilated trunk of a hubody came falling turough. An examination was de, when, to the horror of all present, a huge und was found, extending from ear to ear, comright side of the neck, three of which struck vertebra, while the fourth passed behind severed the muscles in the back part of neck. The lungs showed that death enbefore suffication could have taken place. thought, very naturally, that robbers had committed the horrible crime, as the woman was known to have money, jewelry and some valuable clothing in was at that time in the employ of Manefield & Stin-son, machinists, at Rutland, and who was known to have been a frequent visitor at her house; also having been seen in her company publicly in the stregss. On the Saturday be-fore, the 6th, he accompanied her to Barnum's circus and alterwards went home with her. He was not at boarding house after Sunday, the 7th, Tuesday morning, the 9th, when he Ratiand on the 4:30 A. M. train for a from the Berwick House, and arrived there in the afternoon and registered his name as "E. F. Smith," St. Albans, Vt. He then went to a named Abraham and pawned a lady's and chain for $35, giving his and residence the same as at the hotel. He stayed at the Adams House that night and next day pawned to one Pierce opera glass, shawl and rings, one of which was torn from her finger. In a closet of the room he occupied at the hotel was found a half shawl, which he had evidently forgotten, and which was identified as one which Mrs Freize owned and wore.

He left Boaton on the evening train of June 10, which was due at Rutland on the morning of the 11th, and at Cuttingsville, a few miles from Rutland, he was arrested and taken to jail. At the examination he was proved to be the person who prokers as the one who pawned the watch and other

In the September following he was tried at he County Court at Rutiand (Judge H H. Sheeler presiding), and was ably defended Wheeler presiding), and was ably defended by William G. Veazey. The jury, after a short deliberation, rendered a verdict of "Guilty of murder in the first degree. Exceptions were taken by his counsel, and February 4, 1876, the case came before the Supreme Court, and a new trial was denied. Phair was present in court and listened with close attention to the reading of the decision which swept away his last liope of a new trial and scaled his doom, preserving the same cool demeanor he has exhibited all through the trial. He was then sentenced by Judge Pierpoint to be hanged, April 6, 1877, between the hours of one and four o'clock P. M. An effort was recently made for a reprieve, which the Governor could not find sufficient reason for granting.

Phair's STATEMENT.

Phair yesterday made a full statement of the case, accounting for his time on the day of the alleged Pair yesterday made a full statement of the case, accounting for his time on the day of the alleged murder and for several days previous, protesting his entire innocence, and claiming that at the time he was sworn to have been in Boston pawning the dead woman's clothing and jewels he was in Providence, R. I., looking for employment. This was published in the papers of this city this morning, and found thousands of eager readers. Atmong these was M. D. Downing, of the Novelty Manufacturing Company, No. 50 School street.

the Novelty Manufacturing Company, No. 50 School street.

A VALUABLE MEMORANDUM.

After reading the statement, Mr. Downing jumped out of his chair and excitaimed, "My God! they have got the wrong man! This man is innocent!" His words and excited manner astoniabed his associates, and as soon as he became calm he stated that he went to Providence on the morning of June 10, 1874, and returned upon a train which left Providence in the forenoon and reached Boston about noon on that fay. His memorandum book was referred to at once and the time was found to be correct. On that train soming to Boston he met and talked with a man whom he firmly believed to be Phair, and, on reading the shove statement of Phair's, he saw how important a link he might possibly supply. The reader will remember that the murger was upon June 9, 1874, and that Phair claimed that he was in Providence on the evening of that day, and left there on the forenoon of the 10th, arriving in Boston at noon. This led Mr. Downing to recall to mind all the circumstances of the trip, and his recollections of the lacts are as follows:—

Mr. Downing to recall to mind all the circumstances of the trip, and his recollections of the lacts are as follows:—

THE TRIP FROM PROVIDENCE.

Mr. Downing leit Boston by the early train and came back is the forencon, as stated, being anxious to keep an appointment with a gostieman in Boston in the alternoon in an important business matter. Stepping into a smoking car at Providence, he rode in that until he had finished a cigar, and then passed into a passenger car. The man whom he now supposes to be Phair sat in a seat alone. Taking a seat by his side, Mr. Downing soon entered into conversation with him. The man said he hailed from Vermout, whereupon Mr. Downing, who bimself was born and raised in Vermout, inquired what section the man was from:

"I am from Rutland," said the man. "I came down yesterday and tried to get work of the screw company in Providence, but it is so duil I could not and I am going take to Rutland,"

This led to further conversation. Mr. Downing was in a line of business in which he employed a good many agents, and being favorably impressed with the man's appearance and his evident intelligence, he toid him if he did not find any work he had better take an agency for Rutland and vicinity for his goods. The idea did not seem to impress the man lavorably so the subject was dropped. Neither knew yr inquired the name of the other. They talked on general topics and separated. Mr. Downing paid no naticular attention to the report of the murler on the trial and read neither. Of course is could not have known that Phair was the name he had met, nor had any circumstance if event called the matter to mind until he read hair's statement yesterday. Thinking it very improbable that two nean had left Rutland, Juae 9, 1874, and applied to the Serve Company for work and took the same train for Boston, June 10, 1874, he concluded that Phair might have been the man.

When be had reconced this conclusion it was nearly twolve o'clock, and Phair was to be hung in about two hours. Burdened with the thought t

Mr. William Martin, of the Western Union Telegraph office, took a deep interest in the matter on hearing the story, and left that the government should know the facts at once, even if nothing came of it. An attempt was made to lorward the despatch immediately, and it was found to the diamay of all the men that it was the dinner hour of the Montpeller operator and he was not then. Word was immediately sent to all the Vermont offices to ascertain if the whereabouts of the Governor were known. The hanging was to have been at Windsor, and, of course, the Governor had got to be found in time to communicate with Windsor, it he desired to do so. Meanwhile the moments the passing away with what seemed lighting like the moments.

still no word came from Vermont. It was of course realized by all present that no person save the Gov-ernor had any coatrol over the sheriff who was to per-form the execution, but the time for that horrible peremony was so near that the following despatch was

To THE SHEEFF AT PRISON, WINDSON, VI.:—
A reliable man here, states after reading Phair's statement, that he is pretty certain he met Phair on train from Providence to Boston, June 10, 1944, and thrush he can identify him. The man he met was a large mant said he was from Ruiband, and had applied to the Screw Company at Providence for work. Had you not better communicate with the Governor before hauging? CHARLES 11, TAYLOR, Manager of the Globa.

This was sent a little before one o'clock. Still no word from the Governor, and the moments were full of suspense and anxiety; it had become very exciting in that telegraph office. Finally, at fifteen minutes past one P. M., word came that the Governor almost providentially, it seemed, was in the telegraph office at St. Johnsbury and had received the despatch. Then came the rumor that he bad granted a reprieve for one week. A little later and it transpired that on receipt of the despatches he had at once telegraphed a reprieve to Windsor until May 4, giving ample time to fully investigate the information of Mr. Downing and give the condemned man the benefit of the doubt.

THE BOOK TRADE SALE.

Yesterday was the heaviest day of the book trade sale at Clinton Hail. It was opened with Worcester's Dictionaries from J. B. Lippincott & Co., each edition of which was largely duplicated. The Webster's, from G. & C. Merriam followed. There were no duplicates in this lot, but the original number was very large. There were 59 unabridged, 1,000 primary, 500 common school, 200 high school and 250 copies of other editions. McDermott's globes followed, and sold well.
Then came Harper & Brothers, with their large invoices in the catalogue. There were a number of auplicates in this lot. The library of select novels, numbering 470 volumes, was withdrawn from auction and offered at a liberal discount at long credit to be sold at private sale. The Abbott books opened Harpers' invoices, and soid remarkably well. One hundred and twenty of Charlotte Broute's novels were soid, 23 sets of George Enot's novels, in six volumes; 56 volumes of Charles Noranoil's works, 100 of Tennyson's complete works. Will Carleton's Poems were all largely duplicated; 132 copies were sold; 300 of the new Half Hour series. The publications of the World Publishing House were next sold, but not at high prices. These included 87 Chatterox Junior, a large number of the World editions of standard authors, in 75 volumes; 50 copies of the Centennial, United States, and 50 of Youatt on the Horse. Heary Holt & Co. sold among other works 20 copies of the Carlyle Anthology, 20 of the Milton Anthology, 20 sets of the first 77 volumes of the well known Leisure Hour series, including the works of the ismus Russian novelist, Tourgneinf, and of Hardy, Mrs. Alexander, Droz, Auerbach, Theodore Winthrop, Mrs. Jenkin, Björnsen, &c.; 10 sets of Mill's works, of Taino's works (also on Holt's list), his History of English Literature was the Invorte; 17 sets of three volumes being taken; but 10 sets of Taino's works, in 13 volumes, were also sold. Estes & Lauriat found takers for 100 copies of the very popular Sidonie. Among their sales were 10 each of 10 volumes of Epochs of Modern History, and 10 each of 8 volumes of Ancient History, and 10 each of 8 volumes of Ancient History, and 10 each of 8 volumes of Ancient History, and 10 each of 8 volumes of Ancient History, and 10 each of 8 volumes of Ancient History, and 10 each of 8 volumes of Ancient History, and 10 each of 8 volumes of Ancient History, and 10 each of 8 volumes of Ancient History, and 10 each of 8 volumes of Ancient History, and 10 each of 8 volumes of Library, and three copies of their new edition of White's Selborne.) Thompson, Brown & Ca.'s Bibles, Formulas, &c., we in this lot. The library of select novels, numbering 470 volumes, was withdrawn from auction and offered private school kept by the Sisters of Mercy, corner of Willoughby and Classon avenues, Brooklyn. Righteen were removed to the County Hospital, Flatbush. There were about 200 pupils in attendance at the private school at the time. There were also children in attendance at the parochial 600 children in attendance at the parochial school, boys and girls, residents of the Seventh and Twenty-first wards. In order to guard as iar as possible against the disease extending among the latter children the parochial soluciol was dismissed two weeks ago. This precaution, it was believed, would prove sufficient to prevent the extension of the maiady. Experience has, however, shown the failacy of the supposition, for within the past week no less than twenty cases of smallpox have been developed in the wards named, all of which have been traced directly to contagion at the school in question. The Board of Health held a special meeting yesterday, at when they considered the subject in detail and arrived at the conclusion that it special meeting yesterday, at which they considered must be subject in detail and arrived at the conclusion that it would be necessary to take extraordinary measures in order to stamp out the threatened epidemic in that section of the city. Accordingly they appointed four physicians as vaccinators to go from house to house to vaccinate such persons as have not been vaccinated in the past seven years. Of those who were recently attacked by the disease all with the exception of two or three who had the facilities for being isolated at their homes were removed to the County Hospital.

A TEMPERANCE MARTYR.

The Rev. Mr. Opdyke, pastor of the Bethel Methodist church, at Tottenville, was arrested yesterday by Constable Goggin, on a warrant issued by Justice Garrett, of Stapleton, charged with conspiracy. The reverend gentleman-is alleged to have induced parties reverend gentleman-is alleged to have induced parties to make complaints against various liquor dealers in the town of Westfield through intimidation, the last case being that of Mrs. Caroline Paterson, who sued Charles Walker, proprietor of the West End Hotel, Totteaville, for $500, under the Civil Damages act. It is understood that 100 or more complaints are to be made against the different liquor dealers in that town for selling liquor to habitual drunkards. Mr. Opdyke was held in $1,000 ball to appear for trial.

SUMMER HOTEL BURNED.

At three o'clock yesterday morning fire broke out in the large hotel building on the St. Ronan's Well property, Jackson avenue, Flushing. The flames spread with great rapidity, and in a short space of time the building was entirely consumed, together with several building was entirely consumed, together with several outbuildings adjoining. The fire is believed to have been of incendiary origin. A tramp has been arrested on suspicion of being the incendiary. On his person was found a bottle partially filled with kerosene oil, a piece of candle and some matches. The property was owned jointly, until a short time ago, by Senator Prince and Mr. John Higgins, when Mr. higgins became the sole owner. The loss will not fall its short of $16,000. The premises had been unoccupied for some time past.

THE WAR ON DOGS.

In the Fordham Police Court, before Justice Wheeler, yesterday, Amsudas J. Bosart, hving at Meirose, was arraigned on a warrant in which he was charged with keeping a vicious dog and allowing it to charged with keeping a vicious dog and allowing it to run at large unmuzzled. About a week ago the dog ran into the street and attacked two children, named respectively Jane and Christian Ehman, who were on their way to school, biting both severely. A brother of the little boy and girl had since abot at and wounded the brute, but failed to kill it. Several wit-nesses testified to having been attacked by the animal, whereupon the Court imposed a flue of $10 on Bosart and ordered him to despatch the dangerous bound forthwith.

BITTEN BY A MAD DOG.

Thomas Smith, aged ten years, was bitten yesterday house at the foot of Bridge street, Brooklyn. The dog was shot.

RICHMOND COUNTY TROUBLES.

The Richmond County Supervisors have appointed Messra. Frean, Latourette and Seguine a committee to make a thorough investigation of the manner in which the court funds are invested. There are nearly which the court funds are invested. There are userly $50,000 in mortgages, including the money of widows and orphans and moneys deposited by referees. The report to be made by the experts engaged in the examination of the accounts of ex-Treasurer Hugh McRoberts, at the next meeting of the Board, will be final. It is now alieged by persons interested that a large proportion of the assessments for taxes made for several years past on property in Richmond county is uncollectable, and that the property sold for unpaid taxes is worthless to the purchasers.

CONDEMNED MURDERERS.

LITTLE ROCE, Ark., April 6, 1877. A Fort Smith despatch says the Arrapance indian condemned to be hanged there on the 27th lust has had his sentence commuted to imprisonment for inte in the Moundaville (W. Va.) Penttentiary. The two negroes heretolore sentenced will be hanged on the 27th of April.

INTEREST ON TAXES.

The result of the recent election in Long Island City makes it probable that an attempt will be made to hurry a pending suit against the Treasurer of that city, Mr. John Hovan, for alleged misappropriation of public funds in retaining for his personal use moneys collected for interest on back taxes. The papers were long since presented to Attorney General Fairchid, as it was thought best to bring the suit through him, but the trial has not yet taken place. The suit is a civil one to recover over $15,000, the amount alleged to have been taken. Treasurer Hovan, who is a democrat, was defeated by another democrat, who ran under an opposition wing of the party, and which, it is said, will press the charges against The result of the recent election in Long Island City

Noyes, was arrested in New-ark yesterday and taken before Judge Depue at the Court House. The charge against him is conspiracy with Stedwell and Brinkerhool in defrauding the New Jersey Mutual. He was bailed in the sum of $2,500 a wait the action of the Grand Jury, Constable John Post becoming his surety on receiving indemnity,

A SEWING MACHINE SUIT.

In April 1876 J W. Smith, an agent of the Reming on Sewing Machine Company, attempted to recover possession of a sewing machine which was in the hands of William Palmer, a canvasser. Smith, with the assistance of two officers, got the best of the can-vasser, and, seizing the machine, lodged him in the station bouse. Yesterday Falmer sued the company in the Brooklyn City Court for $10,000 damages for malicious prosecution. The jury gave him a verdict for $250.
